Scope of Work: This project is to construct a new, approx. 2.54-acre, park at the 900 Innes Avenue site along the southeast waterfront of San Francisco. One of the piers includes a decorative paving element designed by an artist. Other site improvements include, but are not limited to, utility connections, earthwork, grading, structural fill, foundations, walls, concrete paving, stone and concrete stairs, wood decks, an overlook, a trellis, lighting, security, site furnishings, signage, irrigation, planting, and soils.

The time allowed for completion is 605 consecutive calendar days. The estimated construction cost is approximately $27,000,000. For more information, contact the Project Manager David Froehlich by phone: (628) 652-6642 or email: David.Froehlich@sfgov.org.
